COAL GRABBERS' INFLUENCE STRONG

Two Federal Officers who Sought to Prove Corruption "Dismissed" from the Service

FORTUNE TO INFLUENCE JURY

Their Battle Led by U. S. Deputy Marshal whom They Later "Protected"

SECRET PROBE FACTS LEAK

Publicity Demanded Before Taft Names Successors "Satisfactory" to Guggenheims

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The investigation of the Guggenheim political corruption charges in connection with the removal of Federal officials in Alaska continued behind closed doors today.

Senator Nelson, chairman of the sub-committee held that the inquiry must be made in secret. Senator Overman expressed his willingness to open the doors and it is said that Senator Borah, the other member was not averse to making the hearing public.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26.—Sensational allegations of political and civic corruption, including charges that the Guggenheim syndicate brought about the removal of federal officers in Alaska who were seeking to prosecute syndicate officials became known today and has resulted in a demand that the "lid be lifted" from the secret investigation being made by a sub-committee of the senate judiciary committee. The evidence taken in secret has gradually leaked out and when the sub-committee met today it considered the advisability of opening the door. The only objection to such a course lies in the fact that the action is being taken in connection with the holding up by the senate of nominations by President Taft of successors for the men removed and may be considered a part of the "executive" business of the senate.

The investigation is in charge of Senator Nelson (R., Minn.) as chairman; Senator Borah (R., Idaho.) and Senator Overman (D., N. C.) as members.

GUGGENHEIM'S CORRUPTION

Nelson is chairman of the Ballinger investigation committee. The charge was made to the committee that agents of the Guggenheim spent $70,000 in an effort to keep one of their employes out of prison. Itemized vouchers showing an expenditure of $1,800 in an effort to influence court proceedings were presented to the investigators.

Sought "Higher Ups"

It was alleged that U. S. Dist. Atty. John B. Boyce and U. S. Marshal D. A. Sutherland, were dismissed, because, after convicting a Guggenheim employe they began the work of securing indictments of men "higher up."

Sutherland is a Massachusetts man and Senator Lodge has been active in giving him a chance to clear himself of charges brought against him by alleged friends of the Guggenheim interests. Alaskan Delegate Wickham is advocating the case of Boyce and Sutherland. Against them are Gov. W. E. Clark of Alaska, ex-Governor W. B. Hogsett and National Committee man Shackelford.

Rival Interests Battle

The battle of Keystone Canyon, near Valdez on September 25, 1907, is charged by Boyce and Sutherland to have been the starting point of the trouble. The Guggenheims had constructed a railroad grade in the canyon and had afterwards abandoned it. Men of Valdez organized the Alaska Home Railway company and announced their intention of taking possession of the grade. The Guggenheims sent up a force of men to work on the grade and Valdez dispatched an expedition to dislodge them. The Guggenheim force was led by Edward Hasey, who was clothed with the power of a U. S. Deputy Marshal, a fact that is pointed out as an evidence of the alleged favor with which the magnates were regarded by the court.

When the Valdez delegation appeared the Guggenheim army under the leadership of Hasey opened fire. Two men were killed and three wounded.

Hasey was tried at Juneau on the charge of murder in January and February, 1908, and was acquitted. A year later he was placed on trial on the charge of assault with a dead-

MOST VERSATILE AND VIGOROUS MAN

That is what Cambridge's Orator Calls Roosevelt

in Latin Address There Today

ENCOUNTERS "TEDDY BEAR"

Students Perpetrate Joke and Teddy Gets "in Good"

Immediately by Shaking Its Paw

CAMBRIDGE, England, May 26.—Cambridge University today fell into line with the other big universities of Europe and conferred an honorary degree of doctor of laws upon Col. Theodore Roosevelt. The colonel came to Cambridge from London and was met at the station by the vice-chancellor of the university and a huge crowd of students and towns people who received him with characteristic collegiate enthusiasm.

Roosevelt and the vice-chancellor rode to Pembroke Hall where conference took place in an open carriage and the colonel was cheered along the entire route.

The students clamored for a speech from Roosevelt but he declined. He explained to the vice-chancellor that he wished to adhere to his original intention of making only one address while in England; that at Oxford on June 7.

In company with his family and the university heads Roosevelt spent more than an hour at Emmanuel College where John Harvard, the founder of Harvard University, was educated. He was shown many of the possessions of Harvard which constitute one of the prized collections of relics of Cambridge.

Teddy is lauded. Dr. Sandys, the university orator, in a Latin address, referred to Roosevelt as "the most vigorous and versatile man in the world in his efforts for peace, a friend of the British empire and of all good people the world over."

The doctor declared that Roosevelt would continue his signal public services to his own country on his return to America.

A "Teddy Bear" The Cambridge students perpetrated what they termed a "huge joke" on Roosevelt by placing an immense Teddy Bear with outstretched arms in the path of the party while it was on its sight seeing tour. When Roosevelt encountered the Teddy Bear he laughed uproariously and violently shook his paw. This put the colonel "ace high" with the college lads and they applauded wildly.

ISSUES CALL FOR STATE DEMOCRATS

MADISON, Wis., May 26.—Joseph E. Davies, chairman of the democratic state central committee, announced today that a call has been issued for meeting of the committee in Milwaukee June 2, for the purpose of making plans for the state convention of the party. The democratic editors of the state will meet the same day in Milwaukee by request of the chairman, and the whole affair will take on the importance of a determined rally.

John F. Doherty, when interviewed by The Tribune this afternoon, said: "I am planning on attending the meeting and will, if I can, arrange to get away. I do not know of any other local democrats who will be in attendance."

CUMMINS PLAN DEFEATED TODAY

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26.—The Cummins amendment to the senate railroad bill was defeated 29 to 43. It provided that increased rates should not go into effect until after receiving the approval of the interstate commerce commission.

AMERICANS WIN AT BLUEFIELDS

Madriz Army Is Repulsed and Credit Is Due Yankees with Their Machine Guns

BLUEFIELDS, Va. Wireless to Colon, May 26.—The Madriz army has been repulsed in its attack of Bluefields and custom house, the gate to the port of Bluefields, and today fell back in disorder. Two hundred men were killed and wounded in the fighting, a greater part of the losses being with the Madriz forces. Credit for the victory is given the Americans of Estrada's army who have kept machine guns playing on the government forces from the bluffs for two days. Hope in Bluefields has been revived as it is believed the Americans will be able to hold off the Madriz force indefinitely.

LA CROSSE GETS A NEW FACTORY

National Gauge and Register Company of Minneapolis Locates in This City

Through the efforts of the La Crosse industrial association, another new factory has been brought to this city. The National Gauge and Register company of Minneapolis, which has been in business about two and one-half years in that city, has decided to locate in La Crosse and today it is moving its machinery into the old plant of the Vote-Berger company on the north side. Edmund E. Hans, who will have charge of the business, is here and says the plant will be opened as soon as possible.

Mr. Hans is the inventor of a gasoline gauge which, together with other appliances, will be manufactured in the factory here. The gauge is used on all high grade automobiles and has been adopted by some of the largest factories as well as by the Standard Oil company.

"We are now behind on orders and therefore we are anxious to get the plant in operation as soon as possible," Mr. Hans said.

COMPULSORY LAW IS NOT EFFECTIVE

Supt. Brunstad Tells State Convention Today Sheriff Fails to Perform His Duty

HISTORY IS DISCUSSED TODAY

Large Interest Shown in Opening Session of Superintendents of the State

Professor Sanford of the state normal school addressed the state convention of county superintendents at the opening session this morning on "Teaching History in the Country Schools."

One of the strongest points Professor Sanford brought out was the importance of the relation of the county superintendent to the country school teacher in the outlining of his work, and by finding out what his teachers study. What they study they will teach. As a rule the standards are high in country schools, but the work in manual outline, which is very important, cannot be done as well by the country school graduate, one fact in favor of raising the standard of education. The imaginative work in history was especially dwelt upon.

An interesting discussion, participated in by many of the superintendents, and over which State Superintendent Cary of Madison presided, followed. It was brought out that history was a much neglected subject, and that there was great room for improvement.

Law Hard to Enforce Supt. Albert Brunstad of Chippewa county next addressed the convention on "The Working of the Compulsory Education Law" as related to Chippewa county. The law is found to be hard to enforce, as the county officials are not so much in sympathy with it as are the educators.

Out of twenty-six prosecutions there were two fines imposed. The law states expressly that the sheriff is the grant officer but in many cases the sheriff refuses to be the complaining witness, when he is not paid for the work. More thorough investigation of the cases by some other than the sheriff is what is needed. The department of factory and labor inspection at Madison is also a great help in the matter. Further discussion followed Mr. Brunstad's address.

Year's Accomplishments Short addresses were given by Superintendent Gordon B. Smith of Taylor county and J. C. Brockert of Grant county, on "What County Boards Have Done for County Superintendents the Past Year." The salient point of these talks was that the county board being composed of intelligent men, they are generally glad to listen to a county superintendent and grant his requests.

Preceding the regular session a business meeting was held, Supt. Cushman presiding. A committee of three, Supt. Kelley of Dodge county, Supt. Davies of Sauk county, and Supt. Ames of Dane county were appointed to go to Madison when the legislature convenes and work in the interest of several important bills. It was also decided to omit the banquet next year.

Prof. Engleman Talks The principal address of this afternoon was given by Professor Engleman of the normal school on "Our Educational Ideal, and the Obligation it Imposes."

The convention is being entertained by an automobile ride this afternoon, the start being made from the normal at 4 o'clock. This evening they will be the guests of the board of trade at the Majestic theater.

WILL IT NEVER END? SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—Indictments alleging conspiracy to keep up the price of fish have been returned by the grand jury against the Western Fish company, the A. Paladini company and nineteen individual officials and stockholders in the concerns and smaller firms, all connected with them. District Attorney Fickert alleges that all of the fish companies in the city are in a trust and that the supply has been curtailed while prices have been boosted.

HEIKE'S LETTERS SHOW KNOWLEDGE

Government Plays Trump Card in Prosecution of Sugar Trust Secretary

NEW YORK, May 26.—What was declared the trump card of the government in the prosecution of Charles R. Heike, secretary of the American Sugar Refining Company, was played this afternoon in the introduction of a letter written by Heike to the Boston superintendent of the company. In it Heike admitted that there was a decided discrepancy between the weights kept by the offices for record and he referred to "liberal treatment" by the custom officials.

The letter was dated Dec. 24, 1904. After explaining that there were differences in the records Heike said:

"These differences are due to the desire of the superintendents to make a record and to the liberal weights and care which we received from the custom house and which of course we do not undertake to correct. I do not want two sets of weights kept on the books, one representing the custom house weight, on which duty was paid, and the other the melting weight which is greater."

Another letter written by Heike to Gerbracht, superintendent of the Williamsburg refinery, complained that he had failed to let the insurance men see the books showing a steamer's cargo, claiming they had been burned. In the letter Heike then said:

"As there were no duties paid on this cargo, there would under no circumstances be any danger in showing these weights, as there could be no comparison with the custom house weights."

NEW YORK, May 26.—Treasury checks, endorsed by Charles R. Heike, as secretary of the American Sugar Refining Company, representing rebates paid on sugar cargoes imported by the corporation, were introduced as evidence against Heike at today's session of his trial for conspiracy, to prove Heike must have had knowledge of sugar frauds.

When a cargo of sugar arrived, the government estimated the duty by means of the invoices. After the sugar was weighed on the docks the actual weight as reported by the weighers was returned to the collector and compared with the original estimate.

Invariably it was found that the trust had been charged too much duty and treasury warrants for the difference were drawn.

The government argued that inasmuch as Heike knew how much was paid for the sugar, payments being made in returns of the city weighers and also the amount paid for duty, he had knowledge there was a distinct discrepancy and that the company was benefiting thereby.

TRUST TRIES TO ESCAPE THE LAW

CHICAGO, May 26.—The National demur was begun here in the "beef trust," pleaded the statute of limitation when the argument for the demur was begun today in the United States circuit court before Judge Landis by Attorney Geo. T. Buckingham, attorney for the packers, to the indictment returned by the federal grand jury. The indictment alleged that a number of packing corporations permitted the National Packing company to dominate their affairs. This, it is alleged, was done in pursuance to an agreement between the corporations and the National Packing company to eliminate competition and raise prices. Buckingham argued that the indictment does not allege or describe any crime and does not state facts which necessarily constitute a crime and that on the face of the indictment, the crime, if any occurred, was complete more than three years before the finding of the indictment and that the statute of limitation now bars prosecution.

HENRY SCHULTZ CASE DISMISSED

Because George Wiley, the complaining witness in the case of the state against Henry Schultz, failed to appear in court yesterday, the case was dismissed. Schultz was arrested in Winona and brought back here by the sheriff, to answer to the charge of robbery. It was charged that the defendant robbed Wiley of $120 and then left the city.

Schultz was arraigned before Judge Brindley Monday afternoon. He pleaded not guilty and the hearing was set for this morning at 10 o'clock, bail being fixed at $500 which was furnished. This morning the prisoner was taken into court but the announcement was made that Wiley bought a ticket last night for Chicago and that he would not appear against Schultz. Thereupon the case was dismissed.

RECOMMEND FARM FOR DRUNKARDS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 26.—A recommendation for a farm for drunkards and a plea for action in taking the last remnants of a criminal court from the juvenile courts of the country were the features of today's session of the national conference of charities and correction. Discussing the juvenile courts, Bernard Flexner of Louisville, Ky., said that further changes must be made in the operation of the courts.

Bailey B. Burritt, assistant secretary of State Charities association of New York, charged excessive use of alcohol responsible for one-third of the insane cases and from 30 to 40 per cent of all epileptics. The practice of treating drunkenness solely as a penal problem with no medical aspect was useless, the speaker declared.

It shows an uncharitable spirit to speak ill of the man lower down, and an envious one to speak ill of the man higher up.

WISCONSIN NEWS

TORY BATTLE CRY NOW MADE PUBLIC

Stalwart Convention to Have Definite Slogan; Names of Committee

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 26.—"We oppose men who are Republicans for office and Democrats in office."

This is the slogan which appears on the letterhead of the "Republican Convention Committee," which is in charge of the Taft Republican meeting to be held in Milwaukee, June 8.

The letterhead was turned out Wednesday, and it showed the executive committee to consist of: E. L. Philipp, Milwaukee, chairman; O. W. Johnson, Racine; Frank R. Bentley, Baraboo; M. J. Wallrich, Shawano; J. M. Whitehead, Janesville; George H. Gordon, La Crosse; Spencer Haven, Hudson; Max Sells, Florence; M. B. Rosenberry, Wausau; L. H. Bancroft, Richland Center; W. A. Jones, Mineral Point; Marshall Cousins, Eau Claire; F. C. Winkler, Milwaukee; John Bennett, Port Washington; Willard Van Brunt, Horicon; B. F. McMillan; F. X. Boden, Milwaukee.

Letters from various sources continue to arrive at the headquarters in the Colby & Abbott building, where everybody is head over heels in work in an effort to get the call for the convention out with all possible speed. The call itself will set forth practically what has already been published, and what was contained in the telegrams given out Tuesday. The chief interest in it centers in the list of names to be attached—and many of these have appeared in print.

Upham With Them
One of the telegrams received at the headquarters Wednesday was from ex-Governor W. H. Upham, who says: "Since receiving your telegram message have conferred with leading Republicans and your plan is heartily endorsed by all loyal supporters of the administration who are Republicans in Wisconsin and not Democrats in Washington."

"Sentiment among Republicans strongly favors proposed conference. The county will be represented. Will hold county conference soon. Keep you advised," says ex-Congressman E. S. Minor.

"Endorse fully action of Friday," says C. O. Law, of Chippewa Falls.

"Plan for Republican conference meets with approval here," says W. C. Cowling of Oshkosh.

"I heartily endorse action taken at conference; will give movement my earnest support," says Tom O. Mason, Cumberland.

"I am very much interested to see something started, and started right," says J. A. Wright, Merrill.

"A conference of all loyal Republicans who really support a president of our party... is the only possible step which can be taken to save our party from the ruin and defeat, which is impending, a defeat which is the natural harvest of the seed of faction and discord so recklessly sown by La Follette and his kind in their blind fight for office and power," is the way John Luchsinger, of Monroe, sees it.

WILL USE CANNON AS A SCARE CROW

Progressives Won't Bench Him Because They Need Him for Campaign Material

REGULARS ARE VERY UNEASY

Followers of New Faction Keep "Old Liners" Busy Watching for New Moves

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26.—It became apparent today that "Cannonism" will be one of the big issues in the coming congressional campaign. A powerful wing of the house insurgents, the "conservatives," are determined not to attempt to unseat "Uncle Joe" as speaker at this session, but to save him as a big issue for their fight for re-election this fall. As told exclusively in the United Press dispatches Tuesday, they feel confident that on this issue they will have the support of Col. Roosevelt because of his attitude toward Cannon, which he outlined to the insurgents on the day he quit the presidency.

A certain number of radical insurgents, however, believe that an attempt should be made to oust Cannon from the speaker's chair at this session. The conservative insurgents say that if Cannon continues baiting the insurgents as in his New York speech, when he declared that "shooting is too good for them, they should be hanged," and in numerous speeches on the floor, they will be unable to restrain the radicals.

Meanwhile Cannon and the house organization are facing a rather uncomfortable situation. As one progressive expressed it, "they are sitting on a powder mine and they have no idea just when it is going to explode."

Keeps Tafters Busy

They have grown extremely suspicious and the appearance of Norris or Murdock, the insurgent leaders, on the floor with a bill of any kind is a signal for activity. Representative Dwight (R., N. Y.) the organization whip, is kept busy. If a majority of the progressives appear on the floor at one time Dwight scurries about, hurrying the organization members into the chamber.

One of the reasons why the progressives hesitate to depose Cannon immediately is the difficulty they would encounter in electing his successor. The insurgents would not vote for a democrat or a regular republican and the democrats would not elect an insurgent. For their own protection, the insurgents would be forced to deadlock the house with every day valuable in the coming fight at the polls.

Cannon Good Powder

With Cannon as an issue the insurgents believe their chances for victory will be greatly increased, especially if they succeed in drawing Col. Roosevelt actively in the campaign to gain pledges against the re-election of the speaker.

The democrats are not particularly worried about Cannon just now as they expect to have a majority in the next house in which event they would name a democratic speaker.

IMMIGRATION BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26.—The April immigration bulletin, issued by the department of commerce and labor shows that during that month, 135,952 aliens were admitted to this country. This brings the total for this fiscal year, with still two months to run, up to 803,061 or 52,000 more than during the entire year ended June 30, 1909. If the present average obtains for the next two months, 1910 promises to show the greatest immigration roll in the history of the country.

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

MINISTER CLOSES MANKATO SALOONS

MANKATO, Minn., May 26.—Rev. E. H. Willisford, pastor of the Baptist church, returning to his home, found the saloons wide open, although it was the night of election day. Repairing to the police station, he informed Chief Pond that unless the saloons were closed at once he would take the matter up with the attorney general with a view to having Mayor Meyer removed from office.

The effect was instantaneous, for orders were at once issued to close all saloons and the city was dry inside of ten minutes, and back, side and front doors were closed.

SPRING VALLEY SUICIDE

SPRING VALLEY, Minn., May 26.—Sebert Hermann, aged 58 years, after removing his coat and hat, drowned himself in a creek. Coroner Grimmell decided it was a case of suicide from the effects of alcoholic dementia. Hermann was a tailor by occupation and came from Austin a few weeks ago. He is survived by a son and a daughter.

MR. WILLIAM A. BURGESS

"Am in better condition physically than I have been for years. My stomach, kidneys and liver are in fine shape," says Mr. William A. Burgess.

"While serving in the U. S. Army, 1898 to 1901, I contracted stomach and kidney trouble, from which I have suffered ever since, and for which I receive a pension. I tried many remedies, but none gave any noteworthy effect. About three months ago I began using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as a medicine. I have used three bottles and have gained fifteen pounds since I began using it. I am still using it, and I do not think there is any medicine made that is equal to it. My stomach, liver and kidneys are in better order than they have been for years, and if these three organs of the body are kept in order one will have few doctor bills. I cheerfully recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as a tonic, a stimulant and renovator of the whole system."—WILLIAM A. BURGESS, P. O. box 575, Danville, Ill.

S.S.S. CURES MALARIA

Malaria is a species of blood poverty known as anaemia. It is a condition in which the circulation is so weak and impure that it is unable to supply the system with sufficient nourishment and strength to preserve ordinary health.

The medical profession is divided in opinion as to the manner in which malarial poison gets into the blood. Some take the position that it is an atmospheric poison, the specific germs of which are breathed into the lungs and thus transmitted to the circulation. Others advance the opinion that persons become inoculated with the poison through the bites of mosquitoes. All however agree that MALARIA is a blood affection, and any treatment to successfully overcome it must not only purify this vital fluid, but at the same time add the necessary qualities of richness and strength to the circulation.

The malarial poison destroys large numbers of the red corpuscles of the circulation, and the peculiar paleness of anaemic persons is due to this fact. In the first stages of Malaria there is a bilious condition of the system, constant bodily weakness, poor appetite, and a "no account," tired feeling.

S.S.S. searches out and destroys every particle of malarial infection and builds the blood up to a healthy, nourishing condition. Then the system receives its required nutriment, the bright red corpuscles begin to multiply in the circulation, sallow complexions grow ruddy and flushed with health, the liver and digestion are righted, the appetite improved, and the system vitalized and refreshed in every way. S.S.S. is a safe and pleasant remedy as well as an efficient one. If you have Malaria we will be glad to have you write us describing the case. We will send free our book on the blood and at the same time you will be giving yourself with S.S.S. No charge for the book or advice.

THE FIRST WAD

A recent Madison dispatch to a Chicago newspaper opened with the following paragraphs:

"Special interests, long favored in legislation in the National Congress, have started to pay their debt to Senator Robert M. La Follette, and in real money. The first installment of the fund which the interests represented by the Aldrich-Cannon Congressional organization propose to devote to the defeat of Senator La Follette in his campaign for re-election recently arrived in this state, was taken as far as Marshfield, the home city of W. D. Connor, and after being there for a time was sent back as far as Chicago."

"This sum of money, $20,000, was the subject of a conference in Milwaukee during the time it was reposing in Marshfield, and the conclusion reached by the leaders in the anti-La Follette movement was that discretion dictated that it be not disbursed within this state, but that it be shipped back to Chicago, and be there distributed as needed, so that it would not have to be placed in the accounts of the anti-La Follette committee and made a part of the report that the Wisconsin statutes require to be placed on least Mr. Taft himself had publicly advocated. We might give other illustrations, but they would simply be additional proof of the fact that "standing by Taft," when reduced to a sentence, means: Shall Wisconsin vote to sustain the Republicanism of Aldrich and Cannon or the Republicanism of Roosevelt and La Follette?—Milwaukee Journal.

It is being urged before Judge Landis' court that the time to kill trusts is like the time to kill kittens, before they get their eyes open. Otherwise they become, it is urged, exempt from criminal prosecution on a theory of statutory limitations.

SPOTLIGHTS

ESTHER WASN'T A PRODIGY

Miss Esther Burns, one of the three Burns sisters who are creating much favorable comment among the musical element in the city because of their refined and really meritorious musical act at the Majestic theater this week is a convent educated girl, receiving her training at the Nassau convent in Michigan. Without being one of those infant prodigies whose terms expire quite early, in accordance with the statute of limitations made and provided for infant prodigies, she was always possessed of a good voice, therefore being in great demand at "thank you" social events and "help the cause" donation parties while at boarding school.

MISS ESTHER BURNS

This was the first stage in the artist's progress. Knowing that she was possessed of an excellent voice led her to pay more attention to the development of these powers and talents. While at school she always took the leading part in those delightful "Friday evening literary" events at which there was usually some dramatics. After leaving the school she was in great demand for amateur theatricals and as the three sisters were unusually talented it was finally decided that they should make a venture in vaudeville. They are not sorry for it for they are one of the musical successes of the season. The act includes some classic singing, piano solos and duets and a cello selection.

"Next year we intend to add a violin solo to the act," said Miss Burns when interviewed by the reporter. "The three instruments go so well together and it will add much to the popularity of the act."

The three sisters are vivacious, pretty and accomplished and the act is one of the most refined that has ever appeared in the city.

RONEY BOYS TO GIVE FINE CONCERT

From all reports received here, the Roney Boys Concert company which gives two performances at the high school next Saturday, will be one of the best troupes that has ever visited the city. They have been here once before, and everybody who heard them says that they are an excellent company. The afternoon show is for children and the evening performance is for the older people, but the troupe extends themselves to the utmost at all times. Mr. Roney is famed throughout the country for his successful training of the boys.

The "Roney Boys" are not allowed to take their notes upon the stage excepting only when the music is new. Every one of their concert selections, many of them intricate and difficult, has to be memorized. This is not only good training for their memories, but adds greatly to the artistic effect of the boys' work. Noted educators say it is a liberal education in music, and a valuable object lesson to every young person, to hear "Roney's Boys" sing such standard music. And it sets both children and parents to thinking, and suggests the vocal possibilities that lie in the throats of boys everywhere.

Aside from its entertainment feature this concert has a high educational value, and is at once an inspiration and a grand object lesson to every child in the city, in the possibilities of their own voices under cultivation. It stimulates a greater love for all that is beautiful in music, and helps singing in the church, the school and the home. Indeed, so potent is its influence among children that superintendents and principals of schools and boards of education have many times ordered the schools closed on the afternoon of the boys' matinee—an endorsement that no other concert company in America has received.

Want of care does us more damage than want of knowledge.—Franklin.

The Milliner
How doth the little milliner
Concoct each costly hat,
And gather shekels all the day,
Until your purse is flat.

How nobly she charges you

To decorate confections

The Cherub
He had lemon-colored curls and a nose like a pink button, and his age was close to four.

He came into the drug store accompanied by his mamma, and was lifted on to a stool at the soda water counter.

His mamma ordered two chocolate dips, and immediately thereafter the youngster's face wrinkled amazingly and he uttered an indignant "Waw-aw-aw!" His mamma bent over him. "Make Algie's a chocolate soda," she said.

The orders were filled.
"Waw-aw-aw," shrieked the infant.

Again the mother bent down.
"Algie wants a plated holder for his glass."

The holder was provided.
"Waw-aw-aw," howled the little customer.

"Algie wants a straw," said mamma.

Algie got the straw.
There was a moment's silence, during which the little angel intently scowled at the clerk.

"What is it, dear?"
"Waw-aw-aw!"

Once more the mother bent down.
"Algie doesn't like your face," she said to the clerk: "will you please go away a little while?"

And the clerk cheerfully went away.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Umpire at Home

"Billy" Evans sat alone in his home the other evening meditating on the approaching baseball season which means his return to the arduous umpiring pursuit.

He was thinking of a number of vexatious features of his calling, when his thoughts were interrupted by the ringing of the telephone bell. Some woman desired to talk to Evans' wife, who did not happen to be at home.

"She's out!" shouted Evans, absent-mindedly, in such a thunderous tone that he nearly ruined the poor woman's ear drum.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Let us be going forward," interrupted the duke. There were more vital matters under hand than the beauty of a strolling goose-girl.

So the troop proceeded with dust and small thunder, and shortly passed the city gates, which in modern times were never closed. It traversed the lumpy cobbles of the narrow streets, under hanging gables, past dim little shops and markets, often unintentionally crowding pedestrians into doorways or against the walls. One among those so inconvenienced was a youth dressed as a vintner. He was tall, pliantly built, blond as a Viking, possessing a singular beauty of the masculine order. He was forced to flatten himself against the wall of a house, his arms extended on either side, in a kind of temporary crucifixion. Even then the stirrup of the American touched him slightly. But it was not the touch of the stirrup that startled him, it was the dark, clean-cut face of the rider. Once they were by, the youth darted into a doorway.

"He? What can he be doing here? No, it is utterly impossible; it is merely a likeness."

He ventured forth presently none

The Chancellor's Retort

Lloyd-George is famous, of course, for his brilliant repartee and biting sarcasm. "I am here," he remarked at a political meeting, but before he had time to finish the sentence a noisy interpreter had chimed in, "and so am I."

But the retort was as quick as it was overwhelming. "Yes—but you are not all there."—London Daily Mail.

of the perturbation, however, gone from his face. He ran his hand across his chin; yes, he would let his beard grow.

The duke and his escort turned into the broad and restful sweep of the Konig Strasse, with its fashionable residences, shops, cafes and hotels.

At the end of the Strasse was the Ehrenstein Platz, the great square round which ran the palaces and the royal and public gardens. On the way many times the duke raised his hand in salutations; for, while not exactly loved, he was liked for his rare clean living, his sound sense of justice and his honest efforts to do what was right. Opera singers came and went, but none had ever penetrated into the private suits of the palace. The halt was made in the courtyard, and all dismounted.

The American thanked the duke gratefully for the use of the horse.

"You are welcome to the mount at all times, Mr. Carmichael," replied the duke pleasantly. "A man who rides as well as yourself may be trusted anywhere with any kind of a horse."

The group looked admiringly at the object of this marked attention. Here was one who had seen two years of constant and terrible warfare, who had ridden horses under fire, and who bore on his body many honorable scars. For the great civil strife in America had come to its close but two years before, and Europe was still captive to her amazement at the military prowess of the erstwhile inconceivable American.

As Carmichael saluted and turned to leave the courtyard, he threw a swift, searching glance at one of the palace windows. Did the curtain stir? He could not say. He continued on, crossing the Platz, toward the Grand Hotel. He was a bachelor, so he might easily have had his quarters at the consulate; but as usual with American consulates—even to the present time—it was situated in an undesirable part of the town, over a Bierhall frequented by farmers and the middle class. Having a moderately comfortable income of his own, he naturally preferred living at the Grand Hotel.

Where had he seen that young vintner before?

Meanwhile, the goose-girl set resolutely about the task of remounting her awkward squad. With a soft, clucking sound she moved hither and thither. A feather or two drifted lazily about in the air. At last she gathered them in, all but one foolish, black-eyed gander, which, poising on a large boulder, threatened to dive headforemost into the torrent. She coaxed him gently, then severely, but without success. The old man in patches came up.

"Let me get him for you, Kindchen," he volunteered.

The good-fellowship in his voice impressed her far more than the humble state of his dress. But she smiled and shook her head.

"It is dangerous," she affirmed. "It will be wiser to wait. In a little while he will come down of his own accord."

"Bah!" cried the old man. "It is nothing; I am a mountaineer."

In spite of his weariness, he proved himself to be a dexterous climber. Foot by foot he crawled up the side of the huge stone. A slip, and his life would not have been worth one of the floating feathers. The gander saw him coming and stirred uneasily. Nearer and nearer came this human spider. The gander flopped its wings, but hesitated to take the leap. Instantly a brown hand shot up and caught the scaly yellow legs. There was much squawking on the way down, but when his gandership saw his more tractable brothers and sisters peacefully waddling up the road, he subsided and took his place in the ranks without more ado.

"You are a brave man, Herr," there was admiration in the girl's eyes.

"To court danger and to overcome obstacles is a part of my regular business. I do not know what giddiness is. You are welcome to the service. It is a long walk from the valley."

"I have walked it many times this summer. But this is the last day. Tomorrow I sell the geese in the market to the hotels. They have all fine livers"—and touching a goose with her willow stick.

"What, the hotels?"—humorous-ly.

"No, no, my geese!"

"What was that song you were singing before the horses came up?"

"That? It was from the poet Heine!"—simply.

He stared at her with a rudeness not at all intentional.

"Heine? Can you read?"

"Yes, Herr."

The other walked along beside her in silence. After all, why not? Why should he be surprised? From one end of the world to the other printer's ink was spreading and bringing light. But a goose-girl who read Heine!

"And the music?" he inquired presently.

"That is mine"—with the first sign of diffidence. "Melodies are always running through my head. Sometimes they make me forget things I ought to remember."

"Your own music? An impressario will be discovering you some fine day, and your fortune will be made."

The light irony did not escape her. "I am only a goose-girl."

He felt disarmed. "What is your name?"

"Gretchen."

"What else?"

"Nothing else"—wistfully. "I never knew any father or mother."

"So?" This was easier for the other to understand. "But who taught you to read?"

"A priest. Once I lived in the mountains, at an inn. He used to come in evenings, when the snow was not too deep. He taught me to read and write, and many things besides. I know that Italy has all the works of art; that France has the most interesting history; that Germany has all the philosophers, and America all the money," adding a smile. "I should like to see America. Sometimes I find a newspaper, and I read it all through."

"History?"

"A little, and geography."

"With all this wide learning, you ought to be something better than a tender of geese."

"It is honest work, and that is good."

"I meant nothing wrong, Kindchen. But you would find it easier in a milliner's shop, as a lady's maid, something of that order."

"Q" SHOPS ARE CLOSED TODAY

Orders Received from Chicago Offices; Cut Down Expenses, Says Local Official

The machine shops of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad at Grand Crossing are closed today as the result of an order received last night from the superintendent of motive power at Chicago. The order affects about 50 men employed in the locomotive department.

When interviewed this morning as to the closing one of the officials said, "according to the orders the shut down will be only for today. They do that every so often to cut down expenses. About fifty men in the locomotive department are the only ones that are affected by the order."

The large double tracking enterprises which the road is now engaged in is thought to be one of the reasons why expenses must be reduced. Much of this work is being done in this locality. According to the orders received at the local offices the shops will open again in the morning.

SISTER RELENTLESS AGAINST MRS. DOXEY

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 26.—If Mrs. Dora E. Doxey is freed of the charge of murdering Wm. J. Erber by use of cacodylate soda, she will face not only prosecution for bigamy but also a charge of perjury for collecting Erber's insurance as his wife.

Miss Kate Erder, sister of the dead postal clerk, who conducted the inquiry as to the cause of her brother's death, declared today she would push both of these charges in case Mrs. Doxey was freed, but preferred the perjury charge, as the punishment for that might be greater.

According to Percy Andrews, president of the Ohio Brewers Vengeance Bureau, the recognition of this fact is the real reason why the prohibition wave is subsiding throughout the United States. His address on this topic was the chief discussion of the convention of the Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association, and he said it was up to the wholesalers to remedy this.

GROWING CHILDREN

The Period When the Nervous Activity is at its Greatest

"Against the practice of giving tea and coffee to children, we cannot speak too strongly. Childhood is the period when the nervous activity is at its greatest. The brain is ever busy receiving new impressions. Reflex action, co-ordination of muscles, and the special senses are all under a special course of training.

"The nervous system is pushed to the utmost capacity, and long is the list of victims that follow its over-stimulation. In these little people nothing but harm can come from the use of such cerebral stimulants as tea or coffee. Bad, then, as this practice is, let us as physicians be aggressive in its prohibition.

"Do not be satisfied by answering 'No' when asked as to their use, but let us teach the families with whom we come in contact that such practice is evil. We speak emphatically, because not only among the poor and uneducated, but among the rich, who would know better, this practice is marvellously prevalent."—The Home Doctor.

Children like a warm beverage for breakfast and it is well for them to have it if the drink is food and not a drug.

Postum is made to supply a rich nourishing liquid food with a crisp coffee taste for those who cannot and should not use coffee. Analysis shows it to contain about fourteen per cent of muscle forming elements and 44.1 per cent of energy and fat producing elements, which go to nourish and sustain the delicate nerve centers throughout the body and from which the vital energy proceeds.

The success of child or adult depends largely upon proper sustenance for the body. Children who depend upon the intelligence of their elders to furnish them with good food deserve our most careful attention and thought.

BAN BARBERS' BREATHS

WATERLOO, Tenn., May 26.—Patrons of barber shops here are wearing broad smiles today. The city council has come to the rescue and laid down a set of laws governing the barbers.

First, onions are to be cut from the barbers' bill of fare.

Garlic is also tabooed. While a razor is gently dragged over a patron's face the barber can discuss the weather, ball games or any ordinary subject, but town gossip is on the list of forbidden topics. A small fine can be assessed for the violation of any of these laws.

Waterloo follows the action of a town of the same name in Nebraska in making these laws.

At any rate, not one now can doubt the efficacy of those comet pills sold by the colored citizen of Haiti.

Yesterday afternoon the action brought by Mrs. Smith was tried on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. After listening to the testimony of both and other witnesses, the court decided that neither had grounds for a legal separation.

DRIVE FIRST SPIKE ON NEW RAILROAD

SPARTA, Wis., May 26.—History in the railroad world of this state was made Tuesday, when the first spike on the new Sparta, Milwaukee & Northwestern railroad was driven at a point to the southeast of this city by Ticket Agent W. M. Foresman of Sparta.

Mr. Foresman wielded the maul which drove home the first spike under the direction of Thomas Thompson of Fond du Lac, who is in charge of the track work, and under the supervision of Engineer H. T. Estee in charge of the material. The "golden spike" was driven at 2:48 p. m.

F. H. Bainbridge, resident engineer, now at Necedah, has charge of this important railroad undertaking and assures a speedy completion of the new line which will connect the city of Milwaukee with the main line of the Northwestern railroad at Sparta.

A strip of grade about three miles from this city has been completed by the first grading crew, only about ten days being consumed on it. A second grading crew has been located three miles farther down the right of way and work is being rushed in that point. Two steam shovels are to be placed in operation this week. One at the range where the largest fill is to be made on this end of the line, is to be made.

Troops to Arrive Soon.

Three batteries of regular artillery will arrive in this city next Monday. The Sparta government maneuver the Sparta overnment maneuver tract, the first to arrive this season. Battery F, Fort Snelling, will arrive Monday over the Northwestern lines in a special train of 29 cars. They will march from this city to the range.

Battery E will leave Ft. Leavenworth Monday and arrive here Tuesday, coming over the C. M. & St. P. railroad in a special train of 18 cars.

Battery D left Fort Snelling Monday on a hike to the Sparta range, and are expected to arrive here Monday. Their equipment arrived here Tuesday.

These three batteries compose the Second battalion, Fifth field artillery and will maneuver here at target practice until August 1, at which time the camp of instruction will start as well as the medical school.

Graduating Class Large.

A class of thirty-eight members will be graduated from the Sparta high school June 10. This is the largest class ever graduated from the high school. Twenty of its members are young ladies and ten young men. Harry Hersh is the winner of class honors, with Miss Elizabeth Blank second, Miss Rachel Davis third and Earl F. Jones fourth. The commencement exercises are to be held in the Armory June 10. The class play, "A Russian Honeymoon," is to be presented on the previous evening. The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Rev. L. A. Brenner June 5.

SHIPPERS TO FIGHT RATE ADVANCES

OMAHA, Neb., May 26.—A delegation of shippers, traffic men representing middle west cities will meet in Washington next Tuesday to urge the attorney general to take steps to prevent the proposed increase in commodity freight rates taking effect June 1.

This was decided at a meeting of the shippers representing fifteen western cities at Omaha Tuesday afternoon.

First the shippers of the fifteen cities represented at the meeting will try to hold up the proposed rate and then they will begin criminal action.

E. J. McMan of the Omaha Traffic bureau, declared that there was no doubt in his mind but that the railroads were combining to fix rates in violation of the law. He said that the railroads had so far forgotten their former caution as to vote on agreements in open motion.

Youngpopp—I often wonder what that boy of mine will grow up to be. He already has wonderful conversational powers. Oldbach—Maybe he's ambitious as a barber.

NEW YORK, May 26.—Battling Nelson today posted $1,000 to bind a challenge which he issued to Ad Wolgast for a battle for the lightweight championship of the world. ## BLITZ and BLATZ

Blitz—Du meine zeit, this was a fine day, and yet I feel tired, lazy, played out, and no appetite. Blatz, what can the matter be, will I die soon?

Blatz—Ha, ha, you got spring fever. You need a tonic. I the other day had the same attacking. Drug-gist Beyschlag, 503 Main street, recommended me a $1.00 bottle of Kalamazoo Celery Tonic. Ach, such a medicine! The one bottle returned me all the lost ambitiousness, vigor and activity. I've got now an appetite like a lion, and feel like a prize fighter.

Blitz—You rub it on?

Blatz—No, you take it in. A table-spoonful four times a day.

Blitz—Say Blatz, I want a bottle of that. I want it quick. I'm going to get it now. Come on!

Blatz—All right. But I'm hungry again. Let's stop at Schrank's cafe for a fine lunch, on our way.

BIJOU TODAY

"The Unchanging Sea"
A beautiful biograph interpretation of the poet Kingsley's strangely realistic poem of "The Three Fishers."

"Three fishers went sailing away to the West. Away to the West as the sun went down. Each thought of the woman who loved him best. And the women stood watching them out of the town. For the men must work and the women must weep. And there's little to earn and many to keep. Though the harbor bar be moaning."

A strangely beautiful picture with paths that reaches deep down into the heart.

KILLS THIEF WITH HER ROLLING PIN

Plucky New York Housewife then Tells Police They will Find Noted Crook in Courtyard

NEW YORK, May 26.—"I think a burglar is dead in the courtyard," declared Mrs. Dora Geltman to two policemen attracted by the cries to her apartment on the third floor at 296 Delancey street, today.

"I caught him in my room and hit him with a rolling pin and knocked him out of the window."

The amazed policemen stared at the young woman. Then they went down into the courtyard and found a man lying there dead. The officers recognized him as Louis Glatch, long suspected of being a leader of East Side thieves. They asked Mrs. Geltman for particulars.

"I woke up about daylight," she said, "and saw a man looking over my jewelry on the bureau. I jumped out of bed and threw a cuspidor at him. He knocked him down, but he jumped up and grappled with me. We struggled through the rooms into the kitchen and I dragged myself from him and slammed and locked the kitchen door. He ran into the bedroom toward the window opening on the fire escape and I snatched the rolling pin and went after him. In front of the window I caught him again and hit him with the rolling pin. He went through the window carrying the glass with him and then I yelled for the police."

Glatch had "sneaked" on and in his pocket was found jewelry which was later identified as belonging to Mrs. Bertha Berkenhals, a boarder in the Geltman house. Mrs. Geltman was not arrested.

MISS M. HARRIMAN BECOMES A BRIDE

millies of the bride and groom were present.

Because of the ceremony the church had a new carpet. That is a matter for congratulation, as the weather-beaten old matting was badly frayed. The other interior adornments were few and simple, consisting of several stands of maiden hair fern and wild flowers, gathered from the neighboring hills. The most lavish decorations were in the church yard outside, where E. H. Harriman's grave was overlaid with a bed of spruce twigs, on which reposed a large cross of rhododendron leaves.

Miss Carol Harriman, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, while Lawrence D. Rumsey, brother of the groom, was best man. The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Holmes McGuinness.

Immediately after the ceremony the wedding party entered automobiles and went to the Harriman mansion where the wedding breakfast was served.

There will be a brief wedding trip, but it is believed the greater part of the honeymoon will be spent at Arden where the bride is the chief executive and will continue to act as such.

ly weapon, was convicted and sentenced to serve 18 months in the Washington penitentiary.

Witnesses Entertained.

Ex-Marshall Sutherland submitted to the committee a letter written by the counsel for Hasey's Guggenheim agent at Seattle. With it he also presented a file of bills, amounting to $1,800, paid to one of the Guggenheim witnesses at the first Hasey trial. The bills, it is said, showed in detail how the money had been spent "for the entertainment of witnesses" in the first trial. That was the trial in which Hasey was acquitted. The letter stated that the men who had expended the money in behalf of Hasey had been of great assistance. The bills had been approved and paid by the Guggenheim agent in Seattle, C. H. H. Douglas, who was auditor for the Guggenheims at Valdez, until he left their service a few months ago, is reported to have furnished the papers to Boyce and Sutherland, so Douglas testified before the committee in secret session.

Energy Caused Removal.

It is reported that the effort of Boyce and Sutherland to get evidence to convict the man alleged to have tampered with jurors and witnesses and one or two others involved was the cause of the movement that led to their dismissal. Charges were filed against Boyce and Sutherland with the department of Justice last November. It appeared that there had been a fight at Juneau between Editor A. R. O'Brien of the Record, owned by Hoggart, and E. C. Russell, editor of the rival papers in which Delegate Wickersham is said to have an interest. O'Brien was arrested, pleaded guilty and was fined.

Boyce then procured the indictment of the clerk of the federal court, a jury commissioner and a merchant, on the ground that they had attempted to rescue O'Brien from a policeman. At the trial of the court clerk it was asserted that he had urged O'Brien to resist arrest. The clerk was acquitted and the other two cases dropped.

Dismissed Men Protested.

Then Hoggart and Shackleford preferred charges of procuring indictments for malicious reasons and abuse of power against Boyce and Sutherland. They were referred to Governor Clark by the department of Justice for investigation. He recommended the dismissal of Boyce and Sutherland, and his recommendation was adopted. When their successors

A LIFE LONG WAR, SAYS LA FOLLETTE

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26.—

In his speech in the senate yesterday Senator La Follette said:

"I believe the government furnished by our fathers dedicated to equal opportunities for all, is undergoing a change. This generation has committed to it the emancipation of the people from the slavery of transportation monopoly, just as it was given to the generation of the sixties, the duty of freeing the slaves of that time."

"So long as I live whether it be in public life or out of it, my time will be devoted to the demonstration of the records of legislatures and their failure in the duty they owe the public."

All the Ball Players Wanted to Know when Girl Grabbed Wais Around the Neck at Rochester

Charley Watson, the southpaw pitcher of the Outcasts arrived in the city today from Rochester where the team finished playing yesterday, to rest up, and thereby hangs a tale.

The tale concerns not the comet and its extra appendages but "Banty" Billy Wais, the Outcasts second baseman. Billy wasn't responsible and later it became known that the girl wasn't either.

"The team was walking down the street in Rochester yesterday," said "Ginger," "when a young lady came up to us and made a grab at Safford. He saw her coming and ducked but she got Billy around the neck. I never laughed so much in all my life as I did at the efforts of Billy to disentangle himself from the fairy. Two attendants from the insane asylum finally saved Billy and then we found out that the woman was slightly batty, the falling evidently being in too amorously inclined."

Billy had a narrow escape, if we are to judge by the reports which have reached this city. It was very provoking for Banty as he has been the subject of much "kidding" on the part of all the players.

FOUR ARE SENT ON TO MADISON

Athletic Association Decides to Enter Bradish, Keeler, Jacobson and Stevenson

At a meeting of the Athletic association of the high school yesterday afternoon, it was decided to send Bradish, Keeler, Jacobson and Stevenson to the interscholastic field meet to be held at Madison next Saturday afternoon. These men are the stars of the local team, and can be depended upon to give a good account of themselves, as in spite of the handicaps last Saturday they did excellent work. Bradish is to compete in the high hurdles and the high jump; Keeler is to enter the shot put; Jacobson is to be in the hammer throw, and Stevenson is to enter the mile run. All the men are veterans, and will prove good representatives for the high school, as all stood high in the interstate meet. Bradish, who took first in the high hurdles last Saturday, can be counted on as a sure point winner, and Keeler, who put the shot over forty feet the same day ought to be good enough for another place. Stevenson took first honors in the mile run and will make the best of them to go to beat him, as he is one of the best milers the local school has ever had. Jacobson took third place in the hammer throw last week, and is equally certain of getting a place. Although La Crosse sends but four men this year, great things are expected of them, and they will not disappoint the high school if they perform anywhere near their last form.

Prepare Ribbon Prizes. The committee in charge of the grade school meet to be held on June 4, was instructed to get the ribbons to be given as prizes. Some entries have already been received, and from present indications great interest will be displayed in the contest.

After hearing the reports of several committees the meeting adjourned.

Game Cancelled. The game scheduled for Decoration day between La Crosse and Winona high schools was called off yesterday by the Minnesota school. No reason has been assigned for the cancellation, and it is not expected that a game will be played in its place. However, the two teams play here on June 11.

FITZHERBERT MEETS BALLOT IN A RACE

NEW YORK, May 26.—A real old fashioned "hoos race" is scheduled to take place on the famous old Sheephead Bay track on opening day, when Ballot and Fitzherbert come together. Fitzherbert has been given the laurels as the greatest runner on the American track but Ballot's wonderful performance yesterday when he won a mile and a sixteenth handicap at Belmont Park stamps the stallion as one of the greatest thoroughbreds. The Keene horse picked up 127 pounds and did the distance in 1:47, making his own pace.

CUMMINGS JOINS DULUTH. Pitcher Al Cummings, last year one of the star box men with the champions, rejoined them Tuesday at the special behest of Darby O'Brien.

Darby also wired Mr. Kuehn now that he had secured a shortstop from Green Bay but his name is not known. Altermott may be shifted to second base.
